Cathie mitigation measures for COVID-19

Issued 13.03.2020

In recognition of the developing COVID-19 pandemic and the actions being taken by various governments Cathie are, from Monday the 16th of March, implementing social distancing measures in the interest of the health of our valued staff, clients and suppliers. At this stage, all of our staff have the option of 100% work-from-home and all non-essential business travel is cancelled. Our offices will either be at minimum staffing levels or closed. Individual desk phones will be set to divert to mobile phones and calls to main office numbers will be met with recorded messages providing email addresses and contact details, as necessary. Email addresses for individual offices are also available on our website.

Our approach will be kept under constant review.

We have always encouraged our staff to enjoy a healthy work / private life balance, including working from home, and so our culture and IT systems are very well prepared for adopting these measures more widely. We are committed to minimising any disruption through this period and will be collaborating closely with our projects and clients.

If you have any concerns or require further information, please get in touch with your main Cathie contact in the first instance.
